FEATURE GUIDE

An AI grief companion & final-affairs planner · iOS · Android · Web

01 What Solace is

Solace is not another end-of-life checklist. It's a warm, AI-powered companion for life's hardest passages — preparing for the end of your own life, or carrying on after losing someone. It pairs a genuinely compassionate guide with everything practical: documents, wishes, contacts, and the dozens of tasks no one prepares you for.

Everything is private by default and works offline. The companion meets you where you are — leading with the heart, then helping with the paperwork, one gentle step at a time.

THREE WAYS PEOPLE ARRIVE

Planning my own affairs

Putting your own wishes, documents, and instructions in order while you can — a profound act of love, made calm and unhurried.

Grieving a loved one

You've lost someone. Solace becomes a steady first-responder: grounding, then walking you through the first hours, days, and weeks.

Settling an estate

Acting as executor or administrator — an organized guide through a heavy, bureaucratic process, one priority at a time.

Choosing how to begin

02 The AI grief companion

The heart of Solace. Not a chatbot or a form — the calm, kind presence you can turn to at 2am when it all feels like too much.

💛 Empathy first

Leads with how you're holding up — validates the feeling before any task-talk. Never clinical, never "I understand how you feel."

💛 Gentle check-ins

A time-aware "How are you holding up?" that opens a supportive, no-pressure conversation — not another reminder to do something.

🕯️ Guided through hard moments

One tap to start: "I don't know where to begin," "Help me tell the children," "Write a goodbye letter," "What do I do in the first 48 hours?"

💛 Crisis companion

In grief mode, a calm first-responder that walks you through right now — one small step at a time, nothing more.

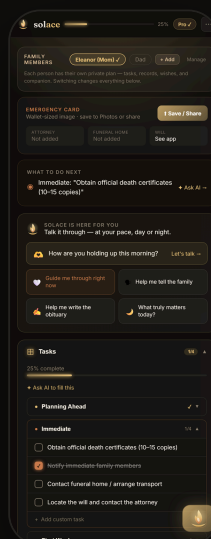

🍃 Acts for you

Tell it something once and it quietly updates your plan — fills tasks, records contacts, drafts wishes — so you never re-type.

🕯️ Remembers

Carries the thread across sessions — who you are, your loved one, what's been hard — and references it warmly, per family member.

Powered by the latest Claude models. Pro & trial members get Claude Opus — the most emotionally nuanced model — for the conversations that matter most; everyone gets a capable companion. Your API requests are proxied securely; keys never touch your device.

04 The four-phase checklist

Solace meets the moment you're in. Every task lives in one of four phases — so you're never facing all of it at once, and always know the next right thing to do.

Planning ahead

Will, healthcare proxy, power of attorney, beneficiaries, and funeral preferences — the gifts you leave in order.

The immediate hours

Death certificates, notifying family, contacting the funeral home, and securing the home and pets.

The first week

Social Security, life insurance, employer & pension, probate, banks, and the obituary.

The first month

Utilities, subscriptions, the VA, final taxes, the DMV, property titles, and distributing belongings.

SECURITY & PRIVACY

End-to-end encrypted vault

Store the will, deeds, insurance and IDs encrypted on your device. Protected by a passphrase only you know, with a one-time recovery code. PRO

Works offline, on-device

FAMILY & TRUSTED ACCESS

Family member profiles

A separate, private plan for each loved one — own tasks, records, wishes, documents and companion. Switch between them in a tap. FAMILY

Trusted contacts

Name the people who can reach a plan when it's truly needed — on request (you're notified and can veto) or automatically if you stop checking in. FAMILY

Collaborators

A spouse or sibling can help keep a plan up to date in real time. FAMILY

Per-profile sharing

Sharing is scoped to one family member at a time — granting access to Mom's plan never exposes Dad's or your own. FAMILY

People you share with never pay. Trusted contacts and collaborators use the plan owner's access — only the owner subscribes to invite them.
